A small field notebook

An original page-label teaching fixture.

Not a scan, facsimile, or real published edition.

The cover has no printed page number.

Preface

This notebook begins with Roman-numbered front matter.

The next two body pages restart at one.

Reading notes

Keep the visible numbers separate from file position.

Changing navigation labels should not repaint this page.

The first observation

An oak stands beside the northern path.

Three leaves lie under a small stone.

The second observation

The stone remains beside the path.

A drawing can be inserted without renumbering this text.

Appendix: locations

The appendix uses its own prefixed numbering sequence.

Location A is the northern path.

Appendix: objects

Object one is the stone.

Object two is the notebook.
